Healthcare Developments to attend healthcare design conference in November

From October 31-November 3 2009, Healthcare Developments will be in attendance at the HEALTHCARE DESIGN conference in Orlando Florida.

'The event addresses how the DESIGN of responsibly built environments directly impacts the safety, operation, clinical outcomes, and financial success of healthcare facilities now and into the future. The conference has quickly become the industry's best-attended and most well-respected conference on evidence-based design for healthcare.'

This conference is for all professionals involved in the design, build, and operation of healthcare facilities, including top administrators and operations executives, architects, interior designers, facility managers, and design/build professionals, as well as researchers, students, and educators. HEALTHCARE DESIGN.08 had over 3,200 attendees spanning the healthcare industry. For HEALTHCARE DESIGN.09, we anticipate over 3,400 attendees.

Attendees and organizations will have plenty of opportunities to connect and engage with their peers and prospects through the over 100 educational sessions and discussion group workshops, 280 companies in the exhibit area, and numerous networking special events held throughout the four days of the conference.

The HEALTHCARE DESIGN conference is developed by professionals who are day-to-day advocates and champions for the improvement of healthcare spaces. This annual event is produced and founded by the industry's leading information and educational advocates, Vendome Group, publisher of HEALTHCARE DESIGN and Long-Term Living magazines, and The Center for Health Design, a nonprofit research and advocacy organization, and in conjunction with the AIA Academy of Architecture for Health.'
